

SE-1 AR-15 Pistol Grip

The Stark SE-1 is designed to maximize weapon control, reduce shooting fatigue and support a solid tactical platform. Each crucial point of shooter-to-weapon contact has been carefully thought out, tested by professionals, and optimized to benefit the user in every type of situation, while the durable, textured material provides a reliable grip when it counts. Novice and veterans alike will appreciate its unique design, no matter the environment or mission.

The geometry of the SE-1 reflects the current tactical demand for functionality Resistant to weather extremes, chemical exposure and abuse, the rugged SE-1 is available in Black, Dark Earth, OD Green and Digital Desert

SE-2 AR-15 Sling Grip

Stark has introduced the first AR-15 pistol grip to integrate an ambidextrous sling mount. The SE-2 is available in two versions. The Hook Mount provides a loop compatible with most common sling hooks; The Swivel Mount allows the attachment of push-button sling swivels.

The SE-2's sling mount is located above the hand and below the buffer tube, with a low profile design that stays out of the way of even fully collapsed M4-style stocks. When added to AR pistols, the SE-2 provides excellent one-handed control while providing sling attachment that doesn't clutter up the receiver extension. Extensive strength testing has been performed on the SE-2 to ensure a reliable attachment point that you can depend on.

Just like the original SE-1 Pistol Grip, the design of the SE-2 enhances weapon ergonomics and functionality, bringing M16, M4 and AR-15 style weapons to a higher level of control and comfort. The grip has been designed for a wide range of hand sizes and shooting demands. Features include a smooth integral trigger guard to increase comfort, textured surface for added grip and storage for batteries or other equipment.
